SENATE APPROVES

MEASURE WOULD BAR WILSON, ROOSEVELT AND TAFT HEREAFTER.

YOTE ENDS THREE-DAY FIGHT

Proposed Amendments, If Approved By House, Will Be Submitted to State Legislatures.

Washington, Feb. I.—A constitutional amendment, which would restrict the president and vice president of the United States to a single term of six years, and would bar Woodrow Wilaon, Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft from again seeking election, was approved by the senate today by the narrow majority of one vote, necessary to make a two-thirds majority. After a three days fight, in which the progressives joined with many republicans in opposing the restricted presidential term, the senate adopted the ortignal Works resolution by a vote of 47 to 23, Senator Works' vote the original Works resolution by a vote of 47 to 23, Senator Works' vote

The language, which it is proposed to insert in the constitution in place of the first paragraph of article 2, is

The executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America. The term of the office of the president shall be six years, and no person who has held the office by election or discharged its powers or duties or acted as president under duties, or acted as president under the constitution and laws made in pur-cuance thereof shall be eligible to hold again the office by election."
Bill Goes to House.

The resolution proposing the con-stitutional amendment now goes to the house for its approval. If rati-fied there by a two-thirds vote it will be submitted to the legislatures of the states and will become effective submitted to the legislatures of states and will become effective of three-fourths of the forty-eight otisted of the union have officially approved it.

The adoption of the resolution came at the close of a three days fight, in which repeated attempts were made to change it that it would not affect past dents or the president in office be ratified by the states. All efforts falled. Two votes taken today again demonstrated the fact that the senate did not care to exempt any person from the operation exempt any person from the operation of the single term provision.

An anexament by Senator Hitch-cock that would have exempted past presidents and made the new provision take effect March 4, 1217, was voted down, 42 to 27, and an amendment by Senator Sutherland to exempt the president in office when the constitutional amendment may finally be fall fied was defeated, 28 to 23.

The Vate.

Senators who supported the single term resolution on its final passage were:

Bryan, Chamberlain, Chilton, Clarke of Arkansas, Fletcher, Gardner, Hitchcock, Johnson, Johnston of Ala-bama, Kavanaugh, Kern, Newlands, Overman, Owen, Paynter, Percy, Derke Rosses, State of the Company of the Overman of the Overma Perky. USED AN AUTOMIBILE.

Undaunted by the delay of a train, Misses Olga and Clyde Bass of Hubbard, two Morning News centestants, were determined to reach the scene before the final count, and they employed the services of an automobile to bring them to Waco. The afternoon Cotton Belt train was reported eight hours late on account of a freight train derailment between Hubbard and Corsicana. Realizing that the candidates entered from the territory outside of Waco would have a difficult time competing with the city contestants, the territory covered by The Morning News was divided into four districts, two for the city contestants and two for the country, which was assurance that all the prizes would not be won in the city, which probably won in the city, which probably would have been the case had the territory not been divided. The winners may well feel proud of the fact that they have run one race in a thousand and have come out with the deserved honor of having outrus and outclassed workers who have themselves done exceedingly well, and would under ordinary conditions have had enough vetes to win.

The honor attached to winning is considered by some of the candidates as being worth as much as the value of the prize. OUR SANITARY OFFICER APPEALS TO WOMEN Left at every door in this city on Friday was a circular from Sanitary Officer Wakefield. Doubtless many women threw this into the fire with the thought that one more piece of litter had been teft at her door. The advice of the city is timely and it should be heeded by every single wo-man in Waco. Do not take the flatman in Waco. Do not take the flattering unction to your soul that you have given the kitchen maid instructions and that your premises are free from the disease germ. Take a look over the alley fence, under the house, in the stable lot, and see if your instructions have been heeded. This structions have been heeded. The woman who notes all that comes under her vision concerning the drama is the woman who will be in the grasp of the new literary form. Never has the dramatic form in literature been so much under discussion as well as so much under discussion as well as under the pen of the writers. It is the prediction that another ten years will find all current fiction published in the form of drama. This coming of Every-woman suggests that another phase in dramatic history is reached.

Several items are enumerated for the proper cleaning of the back yard, the horse lot and the alley. It is a moral law imposed upon every woman to heed and to heed at once. Read Officer Wakefield's circular, and then read it to every servant on the place. The next day he may make the rounds and see if orders have been obeyed on your premises.

Soon, it was altogether the spoken lines and a chorus for the background to interpret the dramatic scene in advance of their presentation. We have this in the present play at Ober-ammer-gau, the best preserved of the classic form now in existence. Soon again, the speaker's impromptu part was extended into a character. Thus was born the drama, and be it noted, in religious worship.

Everywoman a Morality.

It was at this period of dramatic history where the author of Everywoman paused. He decided to go back to the old morality idea and to give the all in dramatic revolution brought is fimely in that the dramatic form of literature, as has been said, is coming into our every day reading. After the people had been educated to those virtues and vices which make morality it was but another step to seek the man or the woman who had exemplified such in daily life. Thus, we have the birth of the historical drama. We the birth of the historical drama. We are now at the time of the great Elizabethan dramas where Shakespere stands peer. The old chronicles were searched for a story where a virtue or a vice could be found. There came Macheth with his ambilion, Henry the Fifth with all his heroic qualities. What more natural than that the lesson should be made more impressive by presenting an actual character? It by presenting an actual character? It is all fascinating to see how step by step we arrived at the present day drama. Always was the desire to ap-peal to public taste. But that taste deteriorated with our present day, hence the anathema put upon the drama and the stage in general. Some of our actors, nay, many, have not ex-empified in their private lives those virtues and vices which could be ap-plauded. But, let us revert and do the drama justice. It was twice born in a people's religious fervor, once with the pagan worship of a Bacchus and again with a Christian's worship of a Christ So, it is not so much for the present day to denounce the drama as to unite with a long pull, a strong pull, a pull all together, to take it back to the days when it taught such morality as Everywoman.

CEMENT PRODUCTION.

According to returns received by the United States Geological survey up to January 15, it is estimated by Ernest E. Burchard, of the survey, that the total quantity of Portland cement manufactured in the United States in 1912 was approximately $1,492,998 barrels. It is believed that this estimate is within 1.5 per cent of the exact figure This quantity represents an increase of 3,413,361 barrels over the 78,528,637 barrels manufactured in 1911, or 4.3 per The shipments of Portland cement during 1912 are estimated at 84.-750,291 barrels, compared with 75, 547,829 barrels in 1911, an increase of 9,202,462 barrels or 12.2 per cent. The production in 1912 was thus held in check sufficiently to permit a material reduction in the stocks of cement at the mills at the close of 1911, which amounted to nearly 12,000,000 barrels. The continued increase in the production of Portland cement is significant in view of the fluctuations in the cutput of other leading mineral products such as coal, iron and copper The curve of production of Portland cement, although not now rising at so rapid a rate as during 1909 and 1910, is still pointing upward and has yet to take its first downward drop.

Practically all mills report havin to contend with adverse business conmonths ago, exactly those facts about ditions during the first six months of the year. Prices were lower than the average for 1911 during this period and some plants reported the lowest prices for which they had ever sold cement. After the middle of the year niggardly chap who never contributes conditions improved materially and generally during the last four months of 1912 the demand for Portland cement was sufficient to keep most mills running at full capacity. In the Leslightly in order to diminish accumulated stocks. Production and ship ments in New York show the greatest proportionate increase of all districts In the southeastern states the increase in production and shipments was gratifyingly large, as it was also in the vicinity of Chicago and in Iowa and Missouri. Certain plants in Kansas were much hampered by the failure of the supply of natural gas, and were obliged to shut down temporarily while installing coal burning devices. This feature contributed to the decrease in production in the Great Plains states In the Pacific coast states and in certain of the Rocky Mountain states production did not keep pace with that of 1911, owin gto the lack of demand for cement for large public works.

The average price for the whole country of Portland cement per barrel in bulk at the mills will probably show a slight decrease when complete returns are received, although at the close of the year prices were much better than they had been during the

"Sometimes commonplaces startle e country," Gov. Wilson remarked the other day during his daily chat with the reporters, and he instanced the shock which certain gentlemen of large affairs suffered when, in Chi cago, he said he did not need to in-dict our banking system, "because it already stood convicted." That re-mark seemed to send a shiver up just why it should, we ourselves were unable to guess; for hasn't abou every man who has spoken or writ but charged that our banking system ficient and about all else that it ought not to be? Certainly our American indictment or conviction of the banking system, so frequently commented on at home nor serious enough to startle "the interests." The difference is and it is a real difference, in our opinionthat hitherto such statements as that by Mr. Wilson at Chicago have been common enough out of the mouths of candidates, as vote getters and agitation makers, but somewhat rare out of the mouths of successful candidates as indication that the words meant something more than campaign thunder, and altogether novel (as far as the arrangement of words goes) out of the mouth of a presidentelect. No. as the Galveston News puts it ,the banking system is attacked as often as it is mentioned at all, but the "shiver" induced by Mr. Wilson's Chicago utterance was the shiver of certainty that the next president will act, as well as comment.

Stiles Manning Scruggs, formerly a resident of Waco in the long ago and a newspaper man who has worked from the Atlantic to the Pacific and is a capable writer, was in the city last night en route to Marlin, where he expects to do some work with the Marlin Democrat. He is well known in Texas and his pen work has made an impress wherever he has played an engagement.

J. B. Love of Salado, one of the solid and substantial citizens of Bell county, spent yesterday afternoon in the city. He is much interested in 1 the success of the Agricultural and 10 Mechanical college and having heard rumers of the proposed strike there he came to Waco to see what he could ascertain regarding it.

Jack F. Lehane, general freight and passenger agent of the Cotton Beit, was in the city last night, a guest of the New State House. He will go east this morning on the early train. Mr.

THE SOUTHLAND SANITARIUM

Offers you relief from these Demons of Tort ure. This sanitarium will treat you in perfect seclusion, without any notoriety and without any of the tortures experienced at some of the institutions by the old method of treating such cases. We have no padded cells, but instead nice, well-regulated, sanitary rooms.

We are far enough from the business center to avoid the noise, but close enough for any convenience. Street car line only a few steps away.

This institution is founded on strictly scientific principles, using the latest methods and remedies in the treatment of these addictions that sooner or later take the patient away. From the first they rob life of all its beauties and pleasures. They send men and women to the asylum, to the prison cell, to the poor house and the grave-and generally does nearly so much for the patient's family.

Without assistance it is almost impossible for them to quit the habit when once in the clutches of these demon drugs.

Write for any information you may desire and it will be cheerfully given you in plain, sealed envelope.

In its ecclesiastical meaning, Candlemas Day is the observance of the feast of the purification of the Virgin feast of the purification of the second of Mary and is observed on the second of February. This festival is strictly kept up by the Roman Catholic church, there being a procession of lighted can-dles, and those required for the services of the ensuing year being also on that occasion consecrated, hence the name, Candlemas Day

In Scotland this is one of four days appointed periodically for the payment of moneys, interest on notes, taxes and the settlement of other like financial matters, the other three days being Whitsunday, Lammas and Martinmas. An old document of the time of Hen. VIII. preserved in the archives of the Society of Antiquaries, London, concerning the rites and ceremonies in the church of England, speaks thus of the custom of carrying candles:
"On Candlemas Daye it shall be declared that the bearings of candles is done in memorie of Christe, the spirituall lyghte whom Simeon dyd pro-phecye (a light to lighten the Gentiles) as it is redde in the churche that daye." der of heathen erigin. The Romans were in the habit of bearing candles on this day to the Goddess Februa, the mother of Mars, and Pope Sergius, seeing it would be useless to prohibit a practice of so long standing, turned it to Christian account by enjoining similar offerings of candles to the Virgin.

The candles are supposed to have the effect of frightening the devil and all evil spirits away from those carrying them. There is a tradition in England that a fine Candlemas portends a severe winter. In Scotland this idea is conveyed in the following:

and smoothing back his mustaches, will decide on the variety of weather that will be served during the next few weeks. According to the tradition, if the day is bright and sunny, and Mr. G. H. sees his shadow, he will burn the dust in his hurry to get back into his demicile because ground here.

gunmen, are afraid of shadows. And if he does bustle into his cloister, order up two tons more of nut coal, have the furnace fixed, and get the heavy shoes resoled, for there's going to be some real winter. But if on that auspicious occasion we are being favored with the rubber-boot weather that has been our lot for the past few months, Mr. G. In 1999, the leading dairy states, as judged by the total value of the farm production were New York, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Mich gan and California, in each of which the value reported exceeded $20,-600,000. In Texas, the value of dairy

HEART, HEAD OR AN IMPORTANT DEATH.

Physician in Charge of Hospitals in Sofia Announces Conclusion From Recent Experiences.

Berlin, Feb. 1.—Nothing less than a bullet through the heart, the head or an important artery is sure to bring death in the wars of today. Abdom-inal wounds, involving even manifold penetrations of the intestines, show a surprising percentage of recovery, and little is to be feared from tho-racic wounds that do not molest big arteries or the heart. What used to be known as gangrene has virtually disappeared, and only in rare instances does pus form at all. When it does it is primarily due to neglect or to unskillful handling by surgeons.

These conclusions are set forth in These conclusions are set forth in an article by Prof. Frank Colmers of Coburg, who took charge of the hos-pitals in Sofia at the request of King Ferdinand upon the breaking out of the war in the Balkans. Two things have brought about the improvement over the days when any wound of the limbs meant amputation and penetration of the abdomen was nearly always fatal. One is, of course, the great advance of aseptic surgery. The other is the form, constitution and velocity of the modern projectile. Except at extremely close range-within yards, where the bullet of the armies der being either consumed by the producer or used in making butter and cheese. The instant the nose meets resistance this potentiality is converted into effective action, the bullet turns in the wound's channel, and the result is both a more extensive implication of tissues and the frequent lodging of the bullet in the body, making later operative interference necessary. Another note-worthy effect is that the bullet, in thus turning, very regularly is stripped, the jacket separating explosively from the core and minute particles of jacket and lead invading the entire vegion of the wound. This naturally leads to infection and sepsis. pointed bullet appears also to pene-trate arteries more often than the round-nosed projectile, which often pushes them aside with little damage. In all these respects, therefore, it may be considered a less humane projec-tile than the other.

Shrapnel wounds remain the most dangerous, although fortunately least frequent. The projectiles rarely have enough valocity to penetrate the body, and therefore generally remain in the wound. Moreover, they regularly convey pieces of clothing or hair into the body, and the result is frequently tetants and death.

Previous to that appointment he had held the comparatively unimportant post of German minister to the little principality of Luxemburg: and still earlier he had been secretary of legation at Rome and The Hague, office in Berlin.

It is understood that Prince Bulow, who appointed Herr von Jagow to the Rome ambassadorship, regarded him as the most efficient of Germany's as the most efficient of Germany's younger diplomatists. His present appointment was made, it is said, directly by the emperor. He at first begged to be excused from accepting it, owing to his uncertain health, and also because he doubted whether he had the gift of public speaking regarded as necessary for a cabinet min-ister in defending Germany's foreign policy in the reichstag. The emperor, however, repeated the appointment with greater urgency; and von Jagow, like a true Prussian nobleman, bowed the decision of his monarch. The Women of Texas

What They Are Doing in Various Phases of Their Work

Reported Weekly in The Waco Morning News by Miss Kate Friend, Editor, 525 Terrace Row, Waco, Texas.

It is quite gratifying to the Morn-ing News, that with only two issues, the club women from all parts of the state are writing to express their sat-isfaction that such has been inaugu-rated. They pledge cordial support in furnishing the club news, each from her town and district. In addition, they give evidence of eager reading.

Mrs. George Langston of Cisco will conduct a party through the west during the coming season. Mrs. Langston as past president of the First District, as well as for her connection with other departments of state club work, is well known to the women of Texas.

MRS. PENNYBACKER SENDS COUNCIL LETTER SEALS

If you as a club woman receive a letter with the something new ap-pended, think at once that this is anof Mrs. Pennybacker's unique She is sending these seals, and really, they will give an added attrac-tion to the letter, to remind that the General Federation Council meets in Washington City in April. Naturally, Mrs. Pennybacker hopes for a representation from Texas, her own state. Washington is an exceedingly interest-ing city, full of opportunity to enjoy, and see historical sights. The councils semi-informal as they are, always improve the club woman. So, it is hoped that Texas will send a large delegation as club body guard to their national

MRS. BALLARD OF DALLAS
A GUEST OF WACO WOMEN
On her return to Dallas from the special Charities and Correction conference, Mrs. Ballard, one of the women probation officers of Texas, was invited to address the women of Waco. Since the agitation concerning the condition of affairs at the Gatesville so-called Industrial School, and since the theft at the Waco post office of more than two hundred thousand dollars by a boy of fourteen, and since the arrest of the small lad for the burning of the Presbyterian college at Sherman, the women of Waco are very much aroused over the boy proposition. And these three instances are such that should enlist all the thinking women of the state. It was in order to women of the state. It was in order to gain a closer insight from a woman whose personal experience counts, that the Waco women requested this address from Mrs. Ballard. Waco sent a delegation of eleven to this conference at Austin, several of her strongest were present, an assembly of intellithe Waco women requested this ad-

THE SHORT LOBSTER.

How the Law is Evaded Along the Maine Coast.

There are many lobster fishermen in Casco Bay, and while we don't want to incriminate any one, says the Portland Press, there is plenty of authority for saying that there are not more than one or two of them but keep every short lobster that gets into their traps.

At Cliff Island, where there are many lobster fishermen, and where at one time shorts flourished as they did nowhere else in the day, they have reformed as a matter of self protection and woe be to the Cliff Islander who keeps any shorts. If one of his neighbors discovers it he forthwith informs on him and then there is a fine, and a fine is fatal to profits. The law is self enforcing there because the fishermen enforce it, and some such code prevails at Monhegan, which is another great lobster community. But as to the rest of the bay short lobstering has become a system.

There are various ways of disposing of short lobsters. The best and most to the profitable way is to send them to the YRUP before it leads to throat and lung trouble. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will give quick relief.

MERIT SYSTEM

BILL PROPOSING THE CIVIL SER-VICE COMMISSION IS EX-PLAINED.

Seven States Have Put the Law in Their Statutes and Texas Is Now Being Urged.

Austin, Feb. 1 .- Professor C. S. Potts chairman Texas State Conference of Charities and Correction today gave with the committees having this meas- give more tangible form to its plan of out the following on "The Merit System for Texas State Service."

The bill proposing to establish the merit system for the departments and institutions of Texas is attracting much interest in business, as well as legislative circles. It is regarded as one of the most important measures now pending before the legislature.

The plaforms of the national parties long since approved the merit system and the Texas platform adopted at San Antonio last August demanded the es-tablishment of the system in this state. Governor Colquitt strongly the measure in his message at the be-ginning of the present session of the legislature. A bill similar to the one now before the house was introduced by Representatives Cureton, Nickels and others in the Thirty-second legislature and was reported favorably by the committee to which it was referred, but failed of passage on account of the crowded condition of the calendar. The present bill, introduced in the house by ernor Colquitt.

nominal salary, and the expense of the dominists on is supposed to be borne largely by the small examination fee to be charged applicants for admission to the service. The bill provides for certain specified positions to which appointments may be made without examination, but for the great majority of the clerical positions in all the state departments and institutions appoint.

The commission has entrusted the staple crops of the general farmer. The commission has entrusted the question of instituting a rural credit system to a committee at he head of which is Edwin Chamberlain of San Antonio. The chairman, besides being familiar with the financial status of Texas and the United States, has made an intimate study of the European system. While abroad Mr. Chamberlain of the charged applicants for admission to the staple crops of the general farmer.

efficiency in the service. The bill provides that any city or county in the state may adopt its provisions by a popular vote. This local option feature thus gives to community the opportunity of applying the merit system to their services through the expert agency of the state govern-

The national civil service reform league is much interested in the pro-posal to adopt the merit system for the state of Texas. This league is a nation wide organization, non-political in character, with offices in New York city. It has been in existence since 1881 and was directly responsible for the enactment of the present civil service law in 1883. Its president, Charles William Ellot of Harvard university, and Co-Operative Idea Will Be Discussed among its vice presidents, for several years up to his election for president of the United States, was the Hon. Woodrow Wilson. At the request of local people interested in the pending bill the secretary of the league, Mr. Robert W. Belcher, has been in Austin for several days working in conference

"The highway development of the country might very properly be divided into four great subdivisons: National roads, by which is meant the main trunk highways of a state, north and south, and east and west. A fair estimate of the mileage of such all system. timate of the mileage of such a national system of roads would not exceed a total of 30,000 miles. Such national highways would naturally bear the brunt of transportation, passing as they would through the large centers of population, through the capitals of the states, connecting such capitals, with each other and with the national capital, thus forming a complete system of inter-state highways. It is with the construction and maintenance of such national highways that the federal government should by concerned, Moreover, the type of government highway should be as nearly perfection as the knowledge of present ay highway engineering could con-rive, and would serve as a model in each state, thus establishing a proper standard of road building, which would place the United States high in the ranks of the world's road builders, "With the national system of highways constructed and maintained by the federal government the states have a large field for road activity in caring for the state system, and here we arrive at the second of the great subdivisions of road building. Such state highways should include all roads connecting the county seats with each other and with the capital of the state, and would be branches of the main be borne by the state alone.

The third subdivision in a workable road building policy is again a matter in which the states alone are concerned, and might properly be designated as the county roads system, meaning the highways which would form the main market roads in each state, and make a well developed system of high. ways in each county, the central point of which would naturally be the county seat. Such county highways should be paid for at the joint expense of the state, county and township, in such proportions as would best meet the needs of the various states.

"Lastly, we have the town highways which form the fourth subdivision in the system. Such town highways might best be governed by the town superin-tendents, and would vary as the local conditions of each town would demand. They should be built jointly at the ex-pense of the state and the town, the cost being borne equally for construc-tion and maintenance. In this manner a system of town highways would fit into the county system, just as the county system would become a part of the state system and that in turn a part of the national highways."

Thaw's Five Years in Matteawan. Fishkill Landing, N. Y., Feb. 1.— Harry K. Thaw today completed five years' incarceration at the Matteawan Hospital for the Criminal Insane, to which institution he was sentenced after the second jury which tried him for the murder of Stanford While, found him insane. To all appearances Thaw is in much better condition, phy-sically and mentally, than he was during the first year or two of his confinement in Matteawan. He seems to take a philosophical view of his situation and appears to be much more contented than at first. Much of his ple treatments reek with poison. And time is spent in reading or in conver-sation with the prison attendants and the few inmates with whom he has struck up an intimacy. Recently the monotony of his days has been considerably relieved by a magnificent phon-ograph presented to him by his mother. Nor have they ever been told that every Saturday, and on the eve of over two dozen holidays, work was stopped everywhere at 4 o'clock." The holidays here mentioned were holy days and church festivals on which the Guilds attended mass in a body and also received communion.

The Church in China.
The work of the Catholic church in The work of the Catholic church in China is the subject of a recent lucid and exceptionally well-informed article by Father de la Serviere, S. J. His article is based almost exclusively on details furnished by the important vicariate of Kiangnan, which has Shanghai as its principal city. During the year 1909-10 he traversed the province making inquiries. He points out that now there are few Catholics in the mandarin classes; that while many are successfully engaged in commerce and industry, most are outcommerce and industry, most are outside the ranks of the affluent, and offer an example of morality and fervor which compares favorably the most fervent of our ancient Christian countries. The Catholic populaments, two-thirds being descendants of the 17th and 18th century converts, who, though piously and almost lavishly charitable, show no spirit of propagandism. The other element consists of new converts from pagan-ism—the children rescued by the misorphanages and the adult consion, orphanages and the adult converts. For many years this conquest of the adult mind went on with discouraging slowness, but during the last twenty years progress has been accelerated, and is now said to be "Most gratifying," showing an increase of 657,390, Monsignor de Guebriant, Vicar-Apostolic of Kientchang, is quoted as follows: "The annual increase in the number of Catholics has for several years past exceeded 50,000. emancipation of mind brought about by the result of the war with Japan, and the influence of Catholic char-itable institutions. The number of conversions is certainly not helped by church; the converts in the Vicariate are put through a long course of in-struction and trial. Father de la Serviere also considers the future under the new republic. Catholics in the South have been joyfully swept on-ward by the ne wmovement, and several have accepted high positions under the new government. Whether there will be any improvement on the situation as it existed under the Manto say. "What is certain," says the to say. Anniversaries of Deaths.

Next Thursday is the thirty-fifth anniversary of the death of the Pope Pius the Ninth, who came to the papal chair in 1846. One of the most mportant acts of the reign of Pius the Ninth had a far-reaching effect upon Catholicity among the Englishpeaking races, and that was his reestablishment of the English Hier-archy in 1852. The doctrine of the Immaculate Conception was promul-gated under Pius IX, and he was also responsible for many comprehensive reforms. On Wednesday next we enter once again upon the season of Lent. Once again we are called by the church to go aside from the world's amusements and gayeties, and to spend forty days with Jesus in the wilderness, in fasting and prayer. Very different from our fathers, however, is our keeping of this penitential season. The fast which with their more rugged constitutions and—shall we add?—their more gobust faith was heroically and uncomplainingly kept by them, has been yery greatly lessened for us in our day and country. Who now thinks of keeping a "black fast?" Ah, we almost shudder to hear of those old hermits like St. Hilarion, for whom "fifteen dried figs daily, which he never ate till after sunset, were his only food;" or of Paul the Simple-very simple indeed perhaps we think him—who went seven days without food or drink; or of St. Marcella, "very rich and noble," who "ate bread and water all the year round, and deprived herself even of that in the seasons of fasting, spending many days of the week entirely without food." Truly, it may be said that Christianity had its

February is also of interest in connection with the reign of Pope Plus the Ninth, because on Pebruary 15, 1865, Cardinal Wiseman died in London. HYDE JUROR DISCHARGED.

Court May Decide to Select Only One New Man.

Kansas City, Feb. 1.-Carl V. Higgins, the juror whose illness caused an interruption of the trial of Dr. B Clarke Hyde, charged with the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, was discharged from the jury by Judge Porterfield tonight after physicians reported that Higgins was in a serious condition.

Judge Porterfield suggested that a panel of 30 men be summoned Monday, at which time a juror to take Higgins' place might be selected, but some of the attorneys thought it would be necessary to discharge the entire jury and to obtain 12 new jurors.

The judge said he would announce his decision on Monday on the legal points involved.

> Our Birthday-February 2nd. Christian Endeavor has reached its thirty-second birthday anniversary, and enters into another year of a tivity with a membership of six mil-lion. Numerous denominations over the world welcome the Endeavor so-ciety and in many of them it is the only young peoples' society

In our own state the Presbyterians, the Disciples of Christ, the Congregationalists, the Free Baptist, the Episcopalian, the Lutheran, and the Methodist Protestant churches all admit the Christian Endeavor socity on an equal with their denominational societies, or have adopted it as the recognition of the control of the equal with their denominational socie-ties or have adopted it as the young peoples' society of the church. In ad-dition to the work being done in these denominations Christian Endeavor is becoming a factor in the smaller places where union societies are organized in which all dernominations can work to-gether. With its five hundred sociegether. With its five hundred socie-ties and a membership of nearly eight thousand in the state Christian Endeayor is exerting a larger influence for good among the young people of Texas than any single denominational sociebegun to reach our young people. Hun-dreds of our towns and cities have no Christian society for the training of the christian society for the training of the young people and many more of our churches are making but little effort to interest young people in Christian service. However, with the present efficient state organization and the aggressive work being done in most of the districts. Christian Endeavor is making rapid progress in bringing "Texas to Christ."

In spite of war and tumors o fwar the two Christian Endeavor societies in the mission school at Kessab, Tur-key, are doing excellent work.—C. E. World.

Special Advice for Men MARKIAGE VOW Vitality Restored By New Method

below (which I gladly send free, sealed by mail, to any young or elderly man anywhere) contains in its 85 beautifully illustrated pages, everything a man need know with regard to certain strictly personal subjects, and as a guide through his entire life, from the delicate period of youth, when wholesome advice is most needed, on through early manhood to a ripe, vigorous, healthy old age. Over a million of these books have been thus distributed by me all over the world. Therefore, please use coupon below and get YOUR

Do you know, my friend, that there is a wonderful new way to supply natural FORCE to your body and by which you fort, trouble or inconvenience, treat your own may, without effort, trouble or inconvenience, treat your own self in the privacy of your home for debility and lost vitality, without using a single drug or medicine? This great FORCE, as a restorer of vitality and as a means to overcome those weaknesses which result from indiscretion and unnatural practices, is today being used all over the civilized world, and I give it as my honest opinion, based on a vast observation and study, that any man anywhere, who leads a decent, many life and who applies this marvelous FORCE in a scientific and rational way, can without employing a single drug, be restored again to a state of perfect, rugged health and vigor, without a remaining ache, pain or weak

As we all know, these various debilitating weaknesses handicap a man in every condition of life, while on the other hand, a perfect specimen of vigorous, robust, lusty manhood is ever admired by both women and men alike, while, of course, it is certainly only such a man who can attain the really great successes of life. Therefore, I say to you, no matter what your size, whether you are small or large, no matter what your occupation, no matter whether you are a college graduate or working on the farm or in the factory, no matter whether you are young or elderly, it is all a question of your vigor and your vitality, and if I can give you a good, abundant supply of this same great power or VITAL FORCE, then it is easy to believe that I can completely restore your vigorous health, can overcome the evil effect of past indiscretions so you will be exactly the same in your influence over people, exactly the same in your manly bearing as other manly, strong-nerved, warm-blooded fellows of your acquaintance.

With an idea of attaining all this for you, I recommend you to investigate a simple little VITALIZING APPLIANCE of my invention, which I am now sending out in great numbers for use by men everywhere who need new manly strength. This little VITALIZER is very light, weighing only several ounces, and can be worn without any one suspecting that you are wearing it. You buckle it on your body upon going to bed and take it off mornings. Thus while you sleep it sends its wonderful power, which I call VITALITY or VITAL FORCE, into your blood. nerves and organs. Users say it takes pain and weakness out of the back from one application, and further say 60 to 90 days' time is sufficlent to restore a state of health and vigor. I am not offering this VITAL-IZER here for sale, but want you to first send for my book, that you may learn all about the whole wonderful subject, and why I get such quantities of testimonials from users everywhere telling of results after drugs completely and utterly fail.

NOTE-With special attachments my VITALIZER is used by women as well as men for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, nervousness and general ill health. Please write for book today, or, if near by, I should like you to call. Hours-9 to 6; Sundays excepted.

JUDGE M'CULLOUGH HOLDS IT STRIKES DOWN PARENTAL CONTROL.

HUSBAND GETS CHILD WIFE

Human Interest Happening in the Nineteenth District Court-Goes Now to Her Farm Home.

Her mother wept and pleaded with er in an undertone; Judge Tom Ham. ilton, back to the girl and face to the court, was explaining for her benefit that the decree of the court did not compel, but only permitted her to return to her young husband; the young husband only looked-and the look won, for Cupid had done his work.

Mrs. Maggie Strickland, 13 years old, stepped across the aisle which was the dividing line between parents and the old home on the one side and husband on the other, and quietly took her seat beside young Jim Strickland, the man whom she promised at Axtell on January 12 to "love, honor and obey" and "cleave to until death do us part." The hearing was concluded yesterday

Judge Tom L. McCullough, in open court, had just decided that under the law and in spite of the fact that the child-wife is alleged to be under the age of marriage, that the contract into which she had entered with the young farmer was a legal and binding one and that she was no longer under parental control, but made independent y her sacred marriage vows. He arther held specifically that her parents could no longer, by exercise of parental authority, prevent her from carrying out her life-partnership with

Wearing short dresses almost up to blue-eyed and brown hair ed, with a complexion as clear as ivory, made the more conspicuous by the rose-red color of her lips and tinge of her cheeks, the child-wife presented a pretty picture as she sat next her mother and listened intently to the argument of counsel which was destined to decide her fate.

Judge J. W. Taylor and W. H. Forrester represented young Strickand, while Judge Tom L. Hamilton and O. L. Stribling were counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Will Thrasher, parents of the girl

It will be remembered that Strickland, seated, it is said, upon a wagon and driving his child-wife to their new home he had rented, was placed under arrest about the middle of January. He was charged with abduction, and with false swearing in connection with securing the license with which to wed the daughter of his former land-

It seems that Strickland had worked Thrasher, and it was while a hand on the place that he fell in lor with the daughter of the house. He came to Waco one Saturday and secured a license. On Sunday the girl walked to church, more than a mile from the home of her parents. Strick-land met her there with a horse and

He was tried upon both charges, the abduction charge being dismissed and the boy being held to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of false sweering. His bond are first trial tri swearing. His bond was fixed at $750. It is alleged that since that time the young wife has been at the home of her parents, and that parental authority was exercised to thority was exercised to prevent her from joining young Strickland. As the result, action was taken by the husband to secure his wife. The cou-ple left the courthouse together yester-

SHIPPING RATE IS PROBLEM

Head of Steamship Company Declares Government Rate-making Would Ruin Business.

Washington, Feb. 1 .-- A government commission, similar to the interstate commerce commission, to supervise rate and traffic agreements among shipping companies was recommended today to the shipping trust investigating committee of the house by R. P. Schwerin, vice president of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, as the only feasible means for governmental regulation of shipping. Mr. Schwerin said that government regulation of rates would ruin the shipping business.

"We must be able to make or change the rate on a second's notice," he said, "in order to meet changing conditions and in order to compete for attractive

Mr. Schwerin said his line, controlled y the so-called Harriman railroad ines, would be forced out of the trade by the restriction against railroad owned ships in the Panama canal act and would be further embarrassed if congress passed the Wilson bill, which would in effect bar Chinese crews from American steamers.

Mr. Schwerin suggested that a gov-ernment commission, if created, should ernment commission, if created, should have the power to supervise rate agreements and to correct them if they were unfair. He was spirited in his criticism of the attitude of the government toward American shipping, saying that on the Pacific coast American ships were forced to compete with Japanese lines subsidized by the Japanese government and given every possible aid by the government in their business. As a result, he said, foreign lines discriminated in favor of their countrymen as against American shippers.

our special offers in the past do not overlook telling their friends, "that pert examination as the persons who now is the time to have their eyes pay the highest price for the larger examined and fitted with glasses." They tell their friends of the wonderful relief which the glasses we pre-scribed gave them and of how their headaches pere instantly overcome by the use of the glasses and the comparatively small cost of same during our last year's offer. By straightforward, honest methods and courteous treatment we have built up the largest exclusive eyesight practice in Texas. When this firm tells you that your frames do not fit your face and are not suited to your eyes, you can bank on it being the gospel truth, and you can bet that they will not furnish you lenses in frames that will not give satisfactory results, even though they lose a sale. On the other hand if your frames and lenses do conform to your facial measurements and eye defects they will tell you just as quickly. Read our special offer below, which expires Monday evening at 6 o'clock, February 10th.

tory of the Organization-More Money Is Needed.

At a citizens' meeting held in the cating room of the Young Men's Christian association yesterday afternoon, preceded by a meeting of the old board of directors and followed by a meeting of the new, the directors of the United Charities were re-elected to serve for another term of one year, they in turn re-electing the officers of the association.

Members of the directorate are: C.

L. Johnson, chairman; Sam Sanger, T. D. Hays, W. H. McCullough, N. S. Hill, R. F. Gribble and H. B. Mistrot.

The officers are: President, C. L. Johnson: secretary, William Lambdin. Following a short talk by President Johnson in tribute to the unselfish work given the association during the past year by Secretary Lambdin, the aged secretary, now over 70 years old, expressed heartiest appreciation of the sentiment and declared that although advanced in years his health is good and he hopes to continue his work for the organization with the same vigor as in the past. He stated that in all his life he had never had more pleasant relations with men than those which he has enjoyed with the board of direc-tors of the United Charities of Waco. The work has gone forward harmo-

Mr. Lambdin's report for the year showed that subscriptions to the cause during that period had been greater than during any previous year. He stated that he had endeavored to expend the moneys in the way in which he thought the most good to the great-est number would be attained. Mr. Johnson said he believed the do-nations for the coming year could be made to total between $4000 and $6000 and that every penny of the amount could be put to good use by the asso-

Mr. Lambdin issued a war against a woman beggar who is in the city and has been here three times before. She has three children. That she is not in desperate need, he said, is shown by the fact that Friday night she asked for paper money for the silver she had, and exchanged her nickels and dimes for a twenty-dollar bill. Such impositions, he said, should be stopped.

He also spoke of several deformed persons who are begging on the streets of the city, stating that there should be some method found by which these could be done away with, as the very sight of some of them would prove njurious, at certain periods, to women

At the suggestion of the chair, Messrs. Hill and Hays were appointed a committee to audit the accounts of Report for the Year. Secretary Lambdin's report for the Money collected from all sources amounted to $3799.71. There was ex-pended of this sum for groceries, wood and coal, railroad fares, drugs, nurse hire, dry goods, rent, household goods, board and ledging, school books and the expense of carrying on the work, $3609.47, leaving a balance in the treas-ry of $190.24.

The society has given assistance to The society has given assistance to 130 families during 1912. Of these 122 were white, five negroes and three Mexicans. These families are made up of 210 grown white people and 303 white children, seven grown negroes and eleven negro children, four grown Mexicans and two Mexican children; Mexicans and two Mexicans and two Mexicans children; Mexicans and two Mexicans ourteen white men and twenty white women, six negro men and eleven negro women were assisted. Fifty rail coad fares at half rate were paid for. Ninety requests for half-fare railroad tickets were furnished parties who paid their own fares or friends or other societies paid for them. Four dependent or deserted children were placed in homes to be cared for and educated.

widows and their near-grown children, who barely earn a livelihood with regular, continuous work, and when the manufactures failed and there was no more work and no more pay they began at once to need help.

The burden of these people was carried successfully by the society, assisted by liberal donations from the city and county commissioners, and several big-hearted private citizens.
It will be noticed that the receipts of the United Charities were greater during 1912 than they have been for during 1912 than they have been for any other year in the regular course of its work. This is accounted for by the extra allowance from the city of $250 and from the county of $150 and from private sources of $156.95, a total $656.95. This leaves out of the total collection for 1912 the sum of $3142.76, as coming from regular contribution. The society needs an assured subscription of $4000 and up.

THAT SENATOR BROWN'S 'GUESS' IS INCORREST IS THEIR PLEA.

LAW MAKERS WOULD BAR BOUTS

With California Wiped Off Pugilistic Camping Grounds Would Be Hard to Find.

BY W. W. NAUGHTON.

San Francisco, Feb. 1.-Is boxing to be placed under the ban in California? Senator Brown of Los Angeles says it is, but senators err in their prognostications at times.

Brown is anxious to stamp out profesional pugilism in this state and in pursuance of his purpose he has framed a bill which is to be passed upon by the legislature at present in session.

In the new meaure, everything bearing upon boxing contests is made a ing upon boxing contests is made a felony. Nothing in the shape of side issues has been overlooked. If a com-plement of "fans" want to discuss the possibilities of a scrap that is to take place in some other state, they will have to go out into the sand dunes and talk in whispers.

It is such a prohibitory, air-tight, water-tight affair that there is a promise of it being self-strangled. Senators and assemblymen who ordinarily have little use for the sport of gloves are likely to conclude that the Brown law is too much of a blue law and refuse to accord it their support.

At that the fellows who derive a sustenance from boxing are uneasy. It is felt that soberness and severity comprise the earmarks of the 1913 legislature in California and that any measure suggestive of reform is liable to be "passed to print." Popularity Never Wanes.

If the sport is tabooed it will be some time before San Francisco adapts itself contentedly to new conditions. This is one place in which the popularity of boxing never wanes. It is nigh onto thirty years since fighting was converted into an indoor sport in this city, yet the thing continues to flourish like a green bay tree.

And it is only fair to say that the game has been shorn of many of its objectionable features. The public has "become educated to it" as the saying is and the charms of faking successfully have been minimized to such an tically abandoned.

If the game goes under the older of the fans will content themselves with living in the past. And what a pug-ilistic retrospect San Francisco boasts!

There has been complaint from more hall clubs than the Chicago Cubs about booze fighting. John McGraw seems to have jumped onto the most happy solution never to caution his players about drinking, but to levy heavy fines for misolavs and misconduct either on the ball field or off the park and McGraw was never known to with-draw a fine save once and he fined himself or that occasion. McGraw has himself on that occasion. McGraw has a fine way of telling whether they are awake or walking in their sleep.

Ty Cobb In Action; the Greatest Base Ball Player the Game Ever Knew VETERAN MAGNATE

For seven seasons Ty Cobb, the Georgia Peach, has led the American league in batting. He is unexcelled in fielding and base stealing and nearly every victory won by Detroit last season was due to his personal playing. The question in the minds of many of the followers of the game is: "How long will he last?"

Cobb is of slight build and extremely nervous; the most high-strung player in America, and there is a feeling among the experts that he will break before his career reaches the length of Wagner, or Lajoie, his two greatest rivals with the bat. At the beginning of last season it was said he was "going back." He did—to the extent of a batting average of .410.

doubtless are aware the stroke in question is played with an iron club, some times an iron, sometimes a mashie. But how? That is the question. One foreign critic starts an article with these words: "There have been great arguments as to whether a ferocious dig with some sort of iron club is to be rightfully termed a push shot."

Coming nearer home, the redoubtable Chick Evans, who is supposed to play it better than any other amateur in this country, frankly admits that he is not really sure what the push shot is. When George Duncan was in this country in 1911 he said that Evans was the only amateur on this side of the water who could play the push shot; also that he played it remarkably well.

As a matter of fact, it may be put

At the top of the swing the club is checked in its upward course long before reaching the horizontal. In fact, the back swing is short, even for what is generally known as the half shot. That the wrists play an important part in the push stroke was also shown. Commercialism of Bassball Exposed in Rise and Fall of Famous Charactor Familiar to Fandom.

Just the other day in one column of a newspaper there was a dispatch tell-ing of the owner of a race horse ship-ping it hundreds of miles to Memphis, ping it hundreds of miles to Memphis, and placing it upon a stock farm to be cared for in comfort in its old age. Further down the column there was a five line dispatch saying that Chris von der Ahe was dying of kidney trouble in St. Louis—and in poverty, says Hugh Fullerton in the Kansas City Star.

We have heard complaints during the winter of ingratitude of the owners of baseball clubs toward faithful players. The commercialism of the game has added to it, but the history of baseball is filled with such stories of ingratitude, not only toward players but toward the great men of the game, who sacrificed their private fortunes to with Anson in vaudeville, John Day holding a petty positon around the New York grounds, and Yon der Ahedying in poverty, the present era has little on the old times for lack of gratitude.

Chris was in his day the greatest character of the game and never another like him has figured in it. He kept a little German beer saloon out near the park, where the St. Louis Browns were struggling to interest an apathetic public in the new form of sport. When the players had money they made Chris's place their head-quarters laughing at his quaint German dialect an dthe odd simplicity of his speech, and when the crowds came away from the park Chris's bar was crowded and flourished. The players persuaded him to invest money, and seeing the it seeing that it came back many fold over the bar, he backed the club and when the time came for St. Louis to break into the major league game Chris

One of the most lagghable things I

One of the most laughable things I ever knew of Chris doing was one spring when he owned three clubs. I was getting up a story showing the predictions of owners and managers as to the outcome of the races and asked Von der Ahe to pick the position of his clubs for me. Without hetitation he wrote three predictions, claiming the pennant for each of his clubs and signing his own name as owner.

pennant for each of his clubs and signing his own name as owner.

His Famous Blunder.

Perhaps his most famous blunder was when he claimed that the diamond on his new park was the largest in the world, but there are scores of stories of his quaint mistakes. He used to sit on the bench with his players and used on the bench with his players and used field glasses. He would sit there with glasses focussed upon the left fielder, and issue orders to him in whispers. On one occasion someone remarked that if Cross made a 3-bagger St. Louis would win the game, and he promptly ordered Monte to make it. The tale goes that Monte hit the triple and that after that Christ often ordered 3-base after that Christ often ordered 3-base hits and had to be persuaded that they weren't needed just then or would be Without funds, with his club heavily incumbered, and the club owners preying upon him every time he got a real ing upon him every time he got a real player. Chris became a deadweight to the National league during the 12-club era, and when the circuit was reduced to eight clubs he was squeezed out entirely to make room for the Robisons, who had given up Cleveland.

Chris went back to the beer saloon, but prosperity never returned. He changed places and moved closer into town. Few of his old partners who had grown rich off him even went to see him.

R. R. MERGER IS UNSETTLED

Conference of Union and Southern Pacific Representatives With Wickersham Fails Purpose.

Washington, Feb. 1.—A conference etween Attorney General Wickersham

washington, Feb. 1.—A conference between Attorney General Wickersham and representatives of the Union and Southern Pacific railroads to formulate a plan for dissolving a merger of those roads was held here today without definite result.

The railroads themselves, it is learned, have so, far failed to reach an agreement as to dissolution to meet the decision of the supreme court. It appeared to officials of the government that the railroads were further apart today than they were a week ago. Despite that fact, officials of the department have not abandoned hope of an amicable solution, because they declare the situation is surrounded by conditions and circumstances which seem capable of adjustment.

The bone of contention still seems to be the disposition of the Central Pacific, now owned by the Southern Pacific. Its proposed transfer to the Union Pacific involves vast complications.

Habes Corpus Writ Arrives While Sheriff Is Leading Publisher Toward Lockup.

Kansas City, Feb. 1.—Only persistent Nelson, editor and owner of the Kansas appe City Star, from jail today, after a sentence of one day's imprisonment for contempt had been pronounced by Judge Joseph Guthrie of the Jackson county circuit court.

The charge was that Mr. Nelson, through his paper, had defamed the court in the publication of an article stating that the judge, upon the advice of a divorce lawyer, had allowed attorney's fees to take precedence over attorney's fees to take precedence over alimony in a divorce suit that was dismissed without being brought to trial. When Sheriff Winstanley took Mr. Nelson, who is 76 years old, by the arm and started to lead him to jail, Mr. Nelson said quietly, "Til not run away," and started to go with him.

Frank P. Walsh, counsel for Mr. Nelson, protested against his client being denied the right of a few minutes' consultation with him.

sheriff then with the judge that the action contemplated was without precedent and the court finally relented and granted ten minutes in which to present a writ of habeas corpus, and presently one of Mr. Walsh's assist-ants bearing the writ pushed through the crowd which filled the court room. Execution of the sentence being stayed, the defendant was taken immediately to the court of appeals, where Judge J. M. Johnson released Mr. Nelson on his personal bail of $100, to ear for a hearing Wednesday, Feb.

THE PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY.

It is an important Post and incumbent 4 points.

The president's secretary is a buffer between his chief and the United States senators and members of the house of representatives, with myriad axes to grind. He must be a diplomat with the most famous diplomats of the world when they call at the White House to take up the time of the president. Indeed, it has been often said in Washington that the president's sec-retary must be as much of a diplomat as any member of the diplomatic corps if he is to be of substantial value to his chief.

Again the secretary must have relations with the hundreds of correspondents who represent the great news-papers of the country. Public opinion is moulded by these correspondents, and they are keenly affirmative in their characteristics. In their ambition to serve their newspapers they always know exactly why they visit the White House. Frequently matters are not exactly ripe and it is one duty of the president's secretary to parry the cisive and probing questions of these alert correspondents. This must be done smilingly and in good form. Then, too, invariably the president's secretary accompanies his chief on secretary accompanies his chief on trips through the country. Hundreds of details come up on these tours of which the president is not expected to know, but it is the absolute duty of his secretary to be familiar with them. So proficient were Hay, Nico-lay, Lamont and Cortelyou that it has been remarked many times that any of them would have made an excellent

CLOSE STEADY NET 3 POINTS Results Show Decline of 6 to 12 Points. POSSIBILITY OF THE SOUTHWEST BREAK IN PENNSYLVANIA SECU-HIGHER TO 6 POINTS LOWER.

Southern Spot Advances Are Bearish. Market Becomes More Regular Before Session Ends.

New York, Feb. 1,-The cotton mar ket was comparatively quiet today and fluctuations were correspondingly nar-row, with the close steady, net 3 points higher to 6 points lower.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 to 5 points on better cables than due. Reports that estimates of the Indian crop were being reduced from over 1,000,000 in excess of last to figures showing an increase of only a little over 300,000 attracted considerable attention here. There was also some buying on the increased activity of the dry goods market at Fall River, but offerings were rather heavy around the initial figures, and with buying power limited, prices soon eased

Bearish southern spot advices, chief. ly from New Orleans, seemed to ren-der Wall street confident, but after showing a net loss of about 5 to 8 points on deliveries later than March, the market was steadied by covering and closed a shade up from the lowest. March was relatively steady dur-ing the entire morning and showed a tendency to increase its premium over later months.

Local cotton people returning here from the south claimed that there is still considerable cotton held speculatively in the laterier and bearish failure to agree among the peace ensentiment seems to be based partly on the idea that loans on this cotton will be called when farmers begin to

In some quarters, however, it is claimed that the southern selling here during the past month reached in hedging practically all the cotton that might be affected in this manner, and while there are scattering reports of uneasy holders, many advices claim. The weather over the helt is steadings. while there are scattering reports of uneasy holders, many advices claim ed favorable, although some sections steadiness in southern markets.

New Orleans.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Feb. I.—Cotton futures opened steady, I point off to 2 points up compared with the last prices of yesterday. Liverpool was better than due, but the local market did not have yesterday. Liverpool was better than due, but the local market did not have a good undertone on the opening call, it was rumored that spot interests were sellers and this stimulated short offerings. The weather map also was considered very favorable. March displayed some strength, standing 5 points up at one time in the early trading, but offer mently were not strong and out other months were not strong and the new crops were neglected. Bulls ! offered no support and at the end of the first half hour of business prices were 4 points under yesterday's close. During the first half of the session fresh offerings from the bear side were more than enough to supply the demand coming from shorts who wanted to take their profits and even up over Sunday. Later the buying orders increased, but offerings did not and the market steadled up appreciably and the market steadled up appreciably and the supply and the standard test steadled up appreciably and the supply and the standard test steadled up appreciably and the supply and the supply amounted to make a market quotable. Lowest Price Made Near the Close.

New Orleans, Feb. 1.-The net results of the week's trading in the cotton market were a decline of 6 to 12 points. The high prices of the week were made on Wednesday and the low prices on Saturday. At the highest the trading months were 8 to 10 points over last week's close; at the lowest the cold wave tended today to pull leading stocks today were narrow and they were 6 to 18 points under.

The range was 16 to 27 points.

Prices fell off toward the end of the week on the unsatisfactory news regarding the Balkan situation, on reported freer offerings of spots in the south and on the falling off in mill takings. Takings for the week were put by Hester at 383,000 bales against 451,000 bales this week last year. All along takings have been running ahead of ast year, the total thus far for
